Lord their God had given unto them, unto the worshipping of the Gods of the heathens, utterly refused to hearken to my voice;

(1:6) for their hearts were set to do evil, and were wholly turned to the God of Elkenah, and the God of Libnah, and the God of Mahmackrah, and the God of Korash, and the God of Pharaoh, King of Egypt;

(1:7) therefore they turned their hearts to the sacrifice of the heathen in offering up their children unto their dumb idols, and hearkened not unto my voice but endeavored to take away my life by the hand of the priest of Elkenah; the priest of Elkenah was also the priest of Pharaoh.

3. (1:8) Now, at this time it was the custom of the priest of Pharaoh, the King of Egypt to offer up upon the altar which was built in the land of Chaldea, for the offering unto these strange gods, both men, women and children.

(1:9) And it came to pass that the priest made an offering unto the god of Pharaoh, and also unto the God of Shagreel, even after the manner of the Egyptians. Now the God of Shagreel was the Sun.

(1:10) Even the thank-offering of a child did the priest of Pharaoh offer upon the altar, which stood by the hill called Potiphar's Hill, at the head of the plain of Olishem.

(1:11) Now, this priest had offered upon this altar three virgins at one time, who were the daughters of Onitah, one of the Royal descent, directly from the loins of Ham. These virgins were offered up because of their virtue; they would not bow down to worship Gods of wood or of stone, therefore they were killed upon this altar, and it was done after the manner of the Egyptians.

4. (1:12) And it come [sic] to pass that the priests laid violence upon me, that they might slay me, also, as they did those virgins, upon this altar; and that you might have a knowledge of this altar, I will refer you to the representation at the commencement of this record.

(1:13) It was made after the form of a bedstead, such as was had among the Chaldeans, and it stood before the gods of Elkenah, Libnah, Mahmackrah, Korash, & also a God like unto that of Pharaoh King of Egypt.

(1:14) That you may have an understanding of these Gods, I have given you the fashion of them in the figures, at the beginning, which manner of the figures is called by the Chaldeans Rahleenos, which signifies Hyeroglyphics [sic].

5. (1:15) And as they lifted up their hands upon me, that they might offer me up, and take away my life, behold, I lifted up my voice unto the Lord my God; and the Lord hearkened and heard, and he filled me with a vision of the Almighty, and the angel of his presence stood by me, and immediately unloosed my bands,

(1:16) and his voice was unto me, Abram! Abram! behold, my name is JEHOVAH, and I have heard thee, and have come down to deliver thee, and to take thee away from thy fathers house, and from all thy kin-folks, into a strange land, which thou knowest not of,

(1:17) and this because they have turned their hearts away from me, to worship the God of Elkenah, and the God of Libnah, & the God of Mahmackrah, & the God of Korash, and the God of Pharaoh King of Egypt; therefore I have come down to visit them, and to destroy him who hath lifted up his hand against thee, Abram, my son, to take away thy life:

(1:18) Behold I will lead thee by my hand, and I will take thee, to put upon thee my name, even the priesthood of thy father: and my power shall be over thee;

(1:19) as it was with Noah so shall it be with thee; that through thy ministry my name shall be known in the earth forever, for I am thy God.

6. (1:20) Behold, Potiphar's Hill was in the land of Ur, of Chaldea; and the Lord broke down the altar of Elkenah, and of the Gods of the land, and utterly destroyed them, and smote the priest that he died; and there was great mourning in Chaldea, and also in the court of Pharaoh, which Pharaoh signifies King by royal blood.

(1:21)-- Now this King of Egypt was a descendant from the loins of Ham, and was a partaker of the blood of the Canaanites, by birth.

(1:22) From this descent sprang all the Egyptians, and thus the blood of the Canaanites was preserved in the land.

7. (1:23) The land of Egypt being first discovered by a woman, who was the daughter of Ham, and the daughter of Egyptus, which, in the Chaldea [sic], signifies Egypt, which signifies, that which is forbidden.

(1:24) When this woman discovered the land it was under water, who afterwards settled her sons in it: And thus, from Ham, sprang that race which preserved the curse in the land.

(1:25) Now the first government of Egypt was established by Pharaoh, the eldest son of Egyptus, the daughter of Ham, and it was after the manner of the government of Ham, which was patriarchal.

(1:26) Pharaoh, being a righteous man, established his kingdom and judged his people wisely and justly all his days, seeking earnestly to imitate that order established by the fathers in the first generations, in the days of the first Patriarchal reign, even in the reign of Adam, and also Noah, his father, who blessed him with the blessings of the earth, and with the blessings of wisdom, but cursed him as pertaining to the Priesthood.

8. (1:27) Now Pharaoh being of that lineage, by which he could not have the right of Priesthood, notwithstanding the Pharaoh's would fain claim it from Noah, through Ham, therefore my father was led away by their idolatry;

(1:28) but I shall endeavor hereafter to delineate the chronology, running back from myself to the beginning of the creation, for the records have come into my hands; which I hold unto this present time.

9. (1:29) Now, after the priest of Elkenah was smitten, that he died, there came a fulfillment of those things which were said unto me concerning the land of Chaldea, that there should be a famine in the land.

(1:30) Accordingly a famine prevailed throughout all the land of Chaldea, and my father was sorely tormented because of the famine, and he repented of the evil which he had determined against me, to take away my life.

(1:31) But the records of the fathers, even the Patriarchs, concerning the right of Priesthood, the Lord my God preserved in mine own hands, therefore a knowledge of the beginning of the creation, and also of the planets, and of the stars, as they were made known unto the fathers, have I kept even unto this day, and I shall endeavor to write some of these things upon this record, for the benefit of my posterity that shall come after me.

10. (2:1) Now the Lord God caused the famine to wax sore in the land of Ur, insomuch that Haran, my brother, died, but Terah, my father, yet lived in the land of Ur, of the Chaldee's.

GEN 11:28 And Haran died before his father Terah in the land of his nativity, in Ur of the Chaldees.
And it came to pass that I Abraham, took Sarai to wife, and Nehor, my brother, took Milcah to wife, who were the daughters of Haran.

And Abram and Nahor took them wives; the name of Abram's wife was Sarai; and the name of Nahor's wife, Milcah, the daughter of Haran, the father of Milcah, and the father of Iscah; but Sarai was barren, and she bear no child.

Now the Lord had said unto me, Abram, get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and
from thy father's house, unto a land
that I will shew thee.

And Abram and Nahor took them wives: the name of Abram's wife was Sarai; and the name of Nahor's wife, Milcah, the daughter of Haran, the father of Milcah, and the father of Iscah.
But Sarai was barren; she had no child.

And the Lord had said unto me, Abram, get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and
from thy father's house, unto a land
that I will shew thee.

Now the Lord had said unto Abram, Get thee out of thy
country, and from thy kindred, and

Abram, Get thee out of thy

187 and Abram was seventy and five years old when he departed out of Haran.

(2:15) And I took Sarai, whom I took to wife when I was in Ur, in Chaldea, and Lot, my brother's son, and all our substance that we had gathered, and the souls that we had won in Haran, and came forth in the way to the land of Canaan, and dwelt in tents, as we came on our way:

GEN 12:5 And Abram took Sarai his wife, and Lot his brother's son, and all their substance that they had gathered, and the souls that they had gotten in Haran; and they went forth to go into the land of Canaan; and into the land of Canaan they came.

(2:16) therefore, eternity was our covering, and our rock, and our salvation, as we journeyed from Haran by the way of Jershon, to come to the land of Canaan.

13. (2:17) Now I, Abram, built an altar in the land of Jershon, and made an offering unto the Lord, and prayed that the famine might be turned away from my father's house, that they might not perish;

(2:18) and then we passed from Jershon through the land, unto the place of Sechem. It was situated in the plains of Moreh, and we had already came [sic] into the borders of the land of the Canaanites, many great ones, which were near unto it;

(3:3) and the Lord said unto me, these are the governing ones; and the name of the great one is Kolob, because it is near unto me: for I am the Lord thy God, I have set this one to govern all those which belong to the same order of that upon which thou standest.

(3:4) And the Lord said unto me, by the Urim and Thummim, that Kolob was after the manner of the Lord, according to its times and seasons in the Revolutions thereof, that one revolution was a day unto the Lord, after his manner of reckoning, it being one thousand years according to the time appointed unto that whereon thou standest; this is the reckoning of the Lord's time, according to the reckoning of Kolob.

17. (3:5) And the Lord said unto me, the planet, which is the lesser light, lesser than that which is to rule the day, even the night, is above, or greater than that upon which thou standest, in point of reckoning, for it moveth in order more slow: this is in order, because it standeth above the earth upon which thou standest, therefore, the reckoning of its time is not so many as to its number of days, and of months, and of years.

(3:6) And the Lord said unto me, now, Abraham, these two facts exist, behold thine eyes seeth it; it is given unto thee to know the times of reckoning, and the set times, yea the set time of the earth upon which thou standest, and the set time of the greater light, which is set to rule the day, and the set time of the lesser light, which is set to rule the night.

18. (3:7) Now the set time of the lesser light, is a longer time as to its reckoning, than the reckoning of the time of the earth upon which thou standest;

(3:8) and where these two facts exist, there shall be another fact above them, that is, there shall be another planet whose reckoning of time shall be longer still;

(3:9) and thus there shall be the reckoning of the time of one planet above another, until thou comest nigh unto Kolob, which Kolob, is after the reckoning of the Lord's time; which, Kolob, is set nigh unto the throne of God, to govern all those planets which belong to the same order of that upon which thou standest.

(3:10) And it is given unto thee, to know the set time of all the stars, that are set to give light, until thou come near unto the throne of God.

19. (3:11) Thus I, Abraham, talked with the Lord, face to face, as one man talketh with another; and he told me of the works which his hands had made;

(3:12) and he said unto me, my son, my son, and his hand was stretched out, behold I will shew you all these. And he put his hand upon mine eyes, and I saw those things, which his hands had made, which were many; and they multiplied before mine eyes, and I could not see the end thereof:

(3:13) and he said unto me this is Shinehah, (which is the sun.) And he said unto me, Kokob, which is a star. And he said unto me, Olea, which is the moon. And he said unto me, Kokaubeam, which signifies stars, or all the great lights, which were in the firmament of heaven.

(3:14) And it was in the night time when the Lord spake these words unto me, I will multiply thee, and thy seed after thee, like unto these; and if thou canst count the number of sands so shall be the number of thy seeds.

20. (3:15) And the Lord said unto me, Abraham, I shew these things unto thee, before ye go into Egypt, that ye may declare all these words.

(3:16) If two things exist, and there be one above the other, there shall be greater things above them; therefore, Kolob is the greatest of all the Kokaubeam that thou hast seen, because it is nearest unto me:

(3:17) now if there be two things, one above the other, and the Moon be above the earth, then it may be that a planet, or a star may exist above it, and there is nothing that the Lord thy God shall take in his heart to do, but what he will do it:

(3:18) Howbeit that he made the greater star, as, also, if there be two spirits, and one shall be more intelligent than the other, yet these two spirits, notwithstanding one is more intelligent than the other, yet they have no beginning, they existed before; they shall have no end, they shall exist after, for they are Gnolaum, or Eternal.

21. (3:19) And the Lord said unto me, these two facts do exist, that there are two spirits, one being more intelligent than the other, there shall be another more intelligent than they: I am the Lord thy God, I am more intelligent than they all.

(3:20) The Lord thy God sent his angel to deliver thee from the hands of the Priest of Elkenah.

(3:21) I dwell in the midst of them all; I, now, therefore, have come
22. (3:22) Now the Lord had shewn [sic] unto me, Abraham, the intelligences that were or- ganized before the world was; and among all these there were many of the noble and great ones,

(3:23) and God saw these souls that they were good, and he stood in the midst of them, and he said, these, I will make my rulers; for he stood among those that were spirits, and he saw that they were good; and he said unto me, Abraham, thou art one of them, thou wast chosen be-fore thou wast born.

(3:24) And there stood one among them that was like unto God, and he said unto those, who were with him, we will go down, for there is space there, and we will take of these materials, and we will make an Earth whereon these may dwell;

(3:25) and we will prove them herewith, to see if they will do all things whatsoever the Lord their God shall command them;

(3:26) and they, who keep their first estate, shall be added upon; and they, who keep not their first estate, shall not have glory in the same kingdom, with those who keep their first estate; and they, who keep their second estate, shall have glory added upon their heads forever and ever.

The Book of Abraham possesses a rich literary structure or texture at several levels that enhances the information content of the text, and adds interest and beauty as well. Reformatting the text to show this texture opens up the book to view in a manner that is impossible in the traditional format. Not only is the result aesthetically pleasing, but the themes and ideas contained in the scriptures, and their relationships to each other, are more visually apparent. Searching for a particular passage is facilitated.

Although we may be reading what appears to be a linear or chronological account of Abraham's experiences, we discover that the thoughts and ideas often are folded back upon themselves in a reflective motif. Sometimes the basic pattern forms an outline on which the text is built. As an example, consider 1:1-7 [verse numbers from current Pearl of Great Price Book of Abraham. -ed.], where the main themes are identified by capital letters.

A Abraham needs to move.
   B Abraham seeks the blessings of the fathers.
      C He seeks for the right to be ordained to administer the blessings.
      D Having followed righteousness, he desires to be possess greater knowledge, to be more righteous, to have a numerous posterity, and to be a prince of peace.
      C He became a rightful heir, a High Priest (and thus able to administer the blessings).
   B He sought for his appointment unto the Priesthood according to the appointment of God to the fathers.
A False priests try to sacrifice him, which is the reason he needs to move.

The parallelism between the elements with identical index letters is evident. The central thought, labeled D, clearly is Abraham's motivation for seeking the priesthood, as well as a new home. As is often the case in chiasmus, the central element is the point of emphasis of the entire passage. Finding these relationships among the elements assists in deriving greater understanding of the passage.

Within this outline we find several examples of further texture on a finer scale. In the first B we see a list of three items, happiness, peace, and rest. The scriptures are replete with lists of this sort. Often the number of members in the lists bear striking correspondence to the traditional biblical number symbolism outlined by Bullinger. (The number three implies completeness.)

Within D we see two chiasms liked together with a common element (ababcba). Keeping the commandments is an obvious factor in being a greater follower of righteousness, as the structure indicates.

At the center of the chiasm in the second C we find an example of direct or alternate parallelism, in this case with an extra point of emphasis (abac).
These few verses have exposed us to several of the parallel forms that are useful in gaining understanding of scripture. These are inverted parallel (of which chiasmus is a sub-set) (ABCD|CBA), direct parallel (ABC|ABC), sometimes with a point of emphasis (ABC|ABCD), and lists of similar items. There are additional types of structure in the scriptures, but these are the ones that will be the most important in understanding Abraham.

A few comments on the formatting technique will be useful before considering the structure. In the reformatted text the parallelisms are indicated by equal levels of indentation. Capital or lower case letters are placed at the beginning of the elements of the more extensive units to guide the eye. Some small simple structures are not labeled. Multiple levels of structure are observed frequently, and the label hierarchy is AA, A, a. Subscripts are used to indicate direct parallelism in paired sub-elements within larger structures.

Paired elements or sub-elements are similar, opposite, or otherwise related. Sometimes an element helps explain or elaborates upon its partner.

Verse numbers are placed at the end of previous verses to avoid having lines beginning with numbers, which is distracting. When a verse number would be the only item on a line it has been deleted. [Unfortunately, we have had to modify this practice here. Consequently, verse numbers are placed at the beginning of the verse, with both TS-1 versification and modern Pearl of Great Price versification represented as in the commentary. Therefore, in Professor Johnson's format, verse numbers should now be regarded as part of the text in order to obtain the correct indentation of text. Also, Professor Johnson's original format used the current Pearl of Great Price text of the Book of Abraham. We have used the TS-1 text.-ed.]

The discussion that follows will focus on the structure, rather than the content, which would require substantially more discussion than is possible here. Also, much of the structure will be fairly obvious, and will not be commented upon.

Abraham 2:1-17 shows an example of how a linear history can be told in a chiastic manner. It begins and ends with considerations of famine and death. Working inwards from both ends we find Sarai and Lot (B), departure from Ur or Haran (C), appearance or departure of the Lord (D), nations and families of the earth (E), blessings unto and by Abraham's seed (F), Priesthood (G), and blessings through Abraham and to those who bless him (H). We arrive at the point of emphasis (I), wherein Abraham is placed as the father of the faithful. This is the central issue of this part of the account.

Chapter 3 is a remarkable example of symbolism that is defined in part by the structure. It possesses multiple levels of structure, as well. The overall pattern is denoted by double capital letters. The first AA, BB, and CC discuss stars, while the second are about spirits and the Lord in closely parallel ways. Thus the first AA speaks of the star, later identified as Kolob, that was nearest unto the throne of God, while the second is about the Intelligence that was like unto God and, by implication, nearest unto his throne. The great governing stars are spoken of in the first BB, while the governing spirits are characterized in the second BB. Stars and spirits are the subjects of the first and second CC, respectively. The point of emphasis (EE) is the promise of a numerous posterity, the consequence of all that surrounds it in this system.

It is to be noted that the overall structure is more or less independent of the smaller scale structure it overlays. Thus the first AA, BB, and the beginning of CC are all included in the first A. This is not unusual in scripture. The smaller systems each have their own significance, and bear careful study, observing in particular the points of emphasis.
Chapters 4 and 5 contain what to many is the most easily understood written account of the creation. It possesses clearly defined preparation, planning and execution phases. The overall pattern is an incomplete direct parallel, AA, BB, CC, AA, BB. It is almost as if there is a CC, but it is not written.

The creation of the heavens and the earth by the Gods is the subject of the two AA elements (4:1-2 and 5:4). The first BB (4:3-31) describes the preparation and plans for life forms upon the earth, while the second (5:5-20) covers the physical creation of all living organisms, including man. Curiously, CC (5:1-3) speaks of the plan of the Gods to end their work, rest, and sanctify the seventh time. The book ends before the actualization of this takes place, and we are left to speculate what is implied by the future tense in these verses.

Within the first BB element we find the preparation and plans described in a series of six direct parallel statements. The A and C elements are relatively fixed in form, while there is an evolution in the B elements. The As begin with "And they (the Gods) said" (v3), "And the Gods also said" (v6), "And the Gods ordered" (v9), "And the Gods organized" (v14), "And the Gods said" (v20), and "And the Gods prepared" (v24). They all include statements of creation or preparation. The C elements are in all cases the delineation of the night and the day.

The B elements begin with the naming of the work done, night and day (v5), heaven (v8), and earth (v10). The statements of preparation begin in the third B (v10-12), and the concept of obedience is introduced. (Note that the Genesis and Moses accounts give "good" and "very good" where Abraham gives "obedient" and "very obedient".) The final three B elements are almost exclusively statements of present or future obedience.

The third level of structure, denoted only by levels of indentation in the reformatted text, is almost exclusively of direct parallel form. An exception is the nice little chiasm in 5:7, where man's spirit and the breath of life are placed in parallel to each other.

The creation accounts in Genesis and Moses follow a similar pattern to the Abraham account, but the pattern is not as clearly defined there. It is to be noted that Abraham's account would predate Moses' by several centuries. Both Abraham and Moses were writing for the benefit of their people, and their posterity in particular, and took pains to attribute all creation to God and the Gods to protect their people from the concepts of the idolaters among whom they were living.

The last major system, with its three little subsystems (5:14-20), is a chiasm beginning and ending with "help meet", with the point of emphasis being "Therefore shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall cleave unto his wife, and they shall be one flesh". This places proper emphasis on the whole purpose of the creation. We may read this statement of parenthood on two levels, earthly and heavenly. It is interesting that it occurs only one other place in scripture (Ephesians 5:31), where it probably carries a similar connotation.

Thus we find the Book of Abraham written in a highly structured way, with the structure helping us to understand the messages he wrote for the benefit of his posterity, including ourselves. The detailed analysis and reformatting shown here has been reserved for our day, when the computer and an abundance of paper are at our disposal.

Finally, it is important to recognize that the formatting shown is simply one man's opinion. The interested student of the scriptures should put it aside and go through the scriptures in detail, seeking for the structure independently. The result will undoubtedly be different, and the insights gained will be more personal and meaningful to the individual. It is very much like the contrast between watching someone make a crucial basket in a ball game and doing the slam dunk yourself.

   b through the fathers,
   a unto me.
B 2. (1:4) I sought for mine appointment unto the Priesthood according to the appointment of God unto the fathers, concerning the seed.

A a (1:5) My fathers having turned from their righteousness, and from the holy commandments which the Lord their God had given unto them,
   b unto the worshipping of the Gods of the heathens,
   c utterly refused to hearken to my voice;
   d (1:6) for their hearts were set to do evil, and were wholly turned to the God of Elkenah, and the God of Libnah, and the God of Mahmackrah, and the God of Korash, and the God of Pharaoh, King of Egypt; a (1:7) therefore they turned their hearts
b to the sacrifice of the heathen in offering up their children unto their dumb idols, c and hearkened not unto my voice d but endeavored to take away my life by the hand of the priest of Elkenah; the priest of Elkenah was also the priest of Pharaoh.
e 3. (1:8) Now, at this time it was the custom of the priest of Pharaoh, the King of Egypt to offer up upon the altar which was built in the land of Chaldea, for the offering unto these strange gods, both men, women and children.
B (1:9) And it came to pass that the priest made an offering unto the god of Pharaoh, and also unto the God of Shagreel, even after the manner of the Egyptians.
C Now the God of Shagreel was the Sun.
D (1:10) Even the thank-offering of a child E did the priest of Pharaoh offer upon the altar, which stood by the hill called Potiphar's Hill, at the head of the plain of Olishem.
E (1:11) Now, this priest had offered upon this altar
D three virgins at one time, who were the daughters of Onitah, one of the Royal descent, directly from the loins of Ham.
C These virgins were offered up because of their virtue; they would not bow down to worship Gods of wood or of stone,
B therefore they were killed upon this altar, and it was done after the manner of the Egyptians.

A 4. (1:12) And it come [sic] to pass that the priests laid violence upon me, that they might slay me, also, as they did those virgins, upon this altar;
and that you might have a knowledge of this altar,
I will refer you to the representation at the commencement of this record.
(1:13) It was made after the form of a bedstead, such as was had among the Chaldeans, and it stood before the gods of Elkenah, Libnah, Mahmackrah, Korash,
& also a God like unto that of Pharaoh King of Egypt.
(1:14) That you may have an understanding of these Gods,
I have given you the fashion of them in the figures, at the beginning, which manner of the figures is called by the Chaldeans Rahleenos, which signifies Hyeroglyphics [sic].
5. (1:15) And as they lifted up their hands upon me, that they might offer me up, and take away my life, behold,
I lifted up my voice unto the Lord my God;
and the Lord hearkened
and heard,
and he filled me with a vision of the Almighty,
and the angel of his presence stood by me,
and immediately unloosed my bands, (1:16) and his voice was unto me, a Abram! Abram! behold, my name is JEHOVAH, and I have heard thee, b and have come down to deliver thee,
c and to take thee away from thy fathers house, and from all thy kin-folks, into a strange land, which thou knowest not of, d (1:17) and this because they have turned their hearts away from me, to worship
e the God of Elkenah, and the God of Libnah, & the God of Mahmackrah, & the God of Korash, and the God of Pharaoh King of Egypt;

a therefore I
b have come down to visit them, and to destroy him who hath lifted up his hand against thee, Abram, my son, to take away thy life:
c (1:18) Behold I will lead thee by my hand, and I will take thee, to put upon thee my name, even the priesthood of thy father: and my power shall be over thee; (1:19) as it was with Noah so shall it be with thee;
d that through thy ministry my name shall be known in the earth forever, e for I am thy God.

6. (1:20) Behold, Potiphar's Hill was in the land of Ur, of Chaldea; and the Lord broke down the altar of Elkenah, and of the Gods of the land, and utterly destroyed them, and smote the priest that he died; and there was great mourning in Chaldea, and also in the court of Pharaoh, which Pharaoh signifies King by royal blood.

A (1:21)---- Now this King of Egypt was a descendant from the loins of Ham, and was a partaker of the blood of the Canaanites, by birth. (1:22) From this descent sprang all the Egyptians, and thus the blood of the Canaanites was preserved in the land.

C 7. (1:23) The land of Egypt
D being first discovered
E by a woman, F who was the daughter of Ham, and the daughter of Egyptus, F which, in the Chaldea [sic], signifies Egypt, which signifies, that which is forbidden.

E (1:24) When this woman
D discovered
C the land it was under water,
B who afterwards settled her sons in it: And thus, from Ham, sprang that race which preserved the curse in the land.

A a (1:25) Now the first government of Egypt was established by Pharaoh, the eldest son of Egyptus, the daughter of Ham, b and it was after the manner of the government of Ham, c which was patriarchal.

a (1:26) Pharaoh, being a righteous man,

b established his kingdom and judged his people wisely and justly all his days, c seeking earnestly to imitate that order established by the fathers in the first generations, in the days of the first Patriarchal reign, even in the reign of Adam, and also Noah, his father, who blessed him with the blessings of the earth, and with the blessings of wisdom,

but cursed him as pertaining to the Priesthood.

8. (1:27) Now Pharaoh being of that lineage, by which he could not have the right of Priesthood, notwithstanding the Pharaoh's would fain claim it from Noah, through Ham, therefore my father was led away by their idolatry;

A  (1:28) but I shall endeavor hereafter to delineate the chronology, running back from myself
B to the beginning of the creation,
C for the records have come into my hands; which I hold unto this present time.
D  9. (1:29) Now, after the priest of Elkenah was smitten, that he died, E there came a fulfilment of those things which were said unto me concerning the land of Chaldea,
that there should be a famine in the land.
E  (1:30) Accordingly a famine prevailed throughout all the land of Chaldea,
D and my father was sorely tormented because of the famine, and he repented of the evil which he had determined against me, to take away my life.
C  (1:31) But the records of the fathers, even the Patriarchs, concerning the right of Priesthood, the Lord my God preserved in mine own hands, B therefore a knowledge of the beginning of the creation, and also of the planets, and of the stars, as they were made known unto the fathers, have I kept even unto this day,
A and I shall endeavor to write some of these things upon this record, for the benefit of my posterity that shall come after me.

A  10. (2:1) Now the Lord God caused the famine to wax sore in the land of Ur, insomuch that Haran, my brother, died, but Terah, my father, yet lived in the land of Ur, of the Chaldee's.
B (2:2) And it came to pass that I Abraham, took Sarai to wife, and Nehor, my brother, took Milcah to wife, who were the daughters of Haran.
C (2:3) Now the Lord had said unto me, Abram, get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and from thy father's house,
unto a land that I will shew thee.
C (2:4) There-fore I left the land of Ur, of the Chaldees,
to go into the land of Canaan;
and I took Lot, my brother's son,
and his wife,
and Sarai,
my wife,
and also my father followed after me,
unto the land which we denominated Haran.
(2:5) And the famine abated;
and my father tarried in Haran and dwelt there,
as there were many flocks in Haran;
and my father turned again unto his idolatry,
therefore he continued in Haran.
D  11. (2:6) But I, Abram, and Lot, my brother's son, prayed unto the Lord,
and
the Lord appeared unto me, and said unto me,
 arise, and take Lot with thee,
for I have purposed to take thee away out of Haran, and to make of thee a minister, to bear my name in a strange land which I will give unto thy seed after thee for an everlasting possession, when they hearken to my voice,

(2:7) for I am the Lord thy God;
I dwell in Heaven,
the earth is my footstool;
I stretch my hand over the sea, and it obeys my voice;
I cause the wind and the fire to be my chariot;
I say to the mountains depart hence, and behold
they are taken away
by a whirlwind,
in an instant, suddenly.

(2:8) My name is Jehovah, and I know the end from the beginning, therefore,
my hand shall be over thee,
E  (2:9) and I will make of thee a great nation,
and I will bless thee above measure,
and make thy name great among all nations,
F and thou shalt be a blessing unto thy seed after thee,
G  that in their hands they shall bear this ministry and priesthood
unto all nations;
H  (2:10) and I will bless them through thy name;
I  for as many as receive this gospel shall be called after thy name, and shall be accounted thy seed, and shall rise up and bless thee, as unto their father,
H  (2:11) and I will bless them that bless thee, and curse them that curse thee,
G  and in thee, (that is, in thy Priesthood)
F  and in thy seed, (that is thy Priesthood,) for I give unto thee a promise that this right shall continue in thee, and in thy seed after thee (that is to say, the literal seed, or the seed of the body.)
E  shall all the families of the earth be blessed, even with the blessings of the gospel, which are the blessings of salvation, even of life eternal.
D  12. (2:12) Now, after the Lord had withdrawn from speaking to me, and withdrawn his face from me, I said in mine heart, thy servant [sic] has sought thee earnestly, now I have found thee. (2:13) Thou didst send thine angel to deliver me from the Gods of Elkenah, and I will do well to hearken unto thy voice, therefore let thy servant rise up and depart in peace.
C  (2:14) So I, Abram, departed as the Lord had said unto me, and Lot with me, and I, Abram, was sixty and two years old when I departed out of Haran.
B  (2:15) And I took Sarai, whom I took to wife when I was in Ur, in Chaldea, and Lot, my brother's son,
and all our substance that we had gathered,
and the souls that we had won in Haran,
and came forth in the way to the land of Canaan,
and dwelt in tents, as we came on our way:
(2:16) therefore, eternity was our covering, and our rock, and our salvation,
as we journeyed from Haran by the way of Jershon,
to come to the land of Canaan.

A 13. (2:17) Now I, Abram, built an altar in the land of Jershon, and made an offering unto the Lord, and prayed that the famine might be turned away from my father's house, that they might not perish; (2:18) and then we passed from Jershon through the land, unto the place of Sehem. It was situated in the plains of Moreh, and we had already came [sic] into the borders of the land of the Canaanites, and I offered sacrifice there in the plains of Moreh, and called on the Lord devoutly because we had already come into the land of this idolatrous nation.

14. (2:19) And the Lord appeared unto me in answer to my prayers, and said unto me, unto thy seed will I give this land. (2:20) And I, Abraham, arose from the place of the Altar which I had built unto the Lord, and removed from thence unto a mountain on the east of Bethel, and pitched my tent there; Bethel on the West, and Hai on the East; and there I built another altar unto the Lord, and called again upon the name of the Lord.

15. (2:21) And I, Abraham, journeyed, going on still towards the South; and there was a continuation of a famine in the Land, and I Abraham concluded to go down into Egypt, to sojourn there, for for the famine became very grievous [sic]. (2:22) And it came to pass when I was come near to enter into Egypt, the Lord said unto me, behold, Sarai, thy wife, is a very fair woman to look upon, (2:23) therefore it shall come to pass when the Egyptians shall see her, they will say she is his wife; and they will kill you, but they will save her alive; therefore see that ye do on this wise, (2:24) let her say unto the Egyptians, she is thy sister, and thy soul shall live. (2:25) And it came to pass that I, Abraham, told Sarai, my wife, all that the Lord had said unto me; therefore say unto them, I pray thee, thou art my sister, that it may be well with me for thy sake, and my soul shall live because of thee.

16. (3:1) And I, Abraham, had the Urim and Thummim, which the Lord my God had given unto me, in Ur of the Chaldees;

AA a (3:2) and I saw the stars also that they were very great, and that one of them was nearest unto the throne of God;

BB b and there were many great ones, which were near unto it;
b (3:3) and the Lord said unto me, these are the governing ones;

CC a and the name of the great one is Kolob,
because it is near unto me:
for I am the Lord thy God,
I have set this one to govern all those which belong to the same order of that upon which thou standest.

B (3:4) And the Lord said unto me, by the Urim and Thummim, that Kolob was after the manner of the Lord, according to its times and seasons in the Revolutions thereof, that one revolution was a day
unto the Lord,
after his manner of reckoning,
it being one thousand years according to the time appointed unto that where on thou standest;
this is the reckoning
of the Lord's
time,
according to the reckoning of Kolob.

210
17. (3:5) And the Lord said unto me, the planet, which is the lesser light, lesser than that which is to rule the day,
even the night,
is above, or greater than that upon which thou standest, in point of reckoning,
for it moveth in order more slow:
this is in order, because it standeth above the earth upon which thou standest, therefore, the reckoning of its time is not so many as to its number of days, and of months, and of years.

D (3:6) And the Lord said unto me, now, Abraham, these two facts exist, behold thine eyes seeth it; it is given unto thee to know the times of reckoning, and the set times, yea the set time of the earth upon which thou standest, and the set time of the greater light, which is set to rule the day, and the set time of the lesser light, which is set to rule the night.

18. (3:7) Now the set time of the lesser light, is a longer time as to its reckoning, than the reckoning of the time of the earth upon which thou standest;

B (3:8) and where these two facts exist, there shall be another fact above them, that is, there shall be another planet whose reckoning of time shall be longer still;

(3:9) and thus there shall be the reckoning of the time of one planet above another, until thou come nigh unto Kolob, which Kolob, is after the reckoning of the Lord's time;

A a which, Kolob, is set nigh unto the throne of God,
   b to govern all those planets which belong to the same order of that upon which thou standest.
   c (3:10) And it is given unto thee, to know a until thou come near unto the throne of God.

DD A 19. (3:11) Thus I, Abraham, talked with the Lord, face to face, as one man talketh with another; and he told me

B of the works which his hands had made;

C (3:12) and he said unto me, my son, my son, and his hand was stretched out, behold I will shew you all these.

B And he put his hand upon mine eyes, and I saw those things, which his hands had made, which were many; and they multiplied before mine eyes, and I could not see the end thereof:

A (3:13) and he said unto me this is Shinehah, (which is the sun.) And he said unto me, Kokob, which is a star.
And he said unto me,
Olea, which is the moon.
And he said unto me,
Kokaubeam, which signifies stars, or all the great lights, which were in the firmament of heaven.

(3:14) And it was in the night time when the Lord spake these words unto me,
I will multiply thee, and thy seed after thee, like unto these; and if thou canst count the number of sands so shall be the number of thy seeds.

20. (3:15) And the Lord said unto me, Abraham, I shew these things unto thee, before ye go into Egypt, that ye may declare all these words.

(3:16) If two things exist,
and there be one above the other,
there shall be greater things above them;
therefore, Kolob is the greatest of all the Kokaubeam that thou hast seen, because it is nearest unto me:

(3:17) now if there be two things, one above the other, and the Moon be above the earth,
then it may be that a planet, or a star may exist above it, and there is nothing that the Lord thy God shall take in his heart to do, but what he will do it:

(3:18) Howbeit that he made the greater star, as, also,
if there be two spirits,
and one shall be more intelligent than the other,
yet these two spirits, notwithstanding one is more intelligent than the other, yet they have no beginning,
they existed before;
they shall have no end,
they shall exist after;
for they are Gnolaum, or Eternal.

21. (3:19) And the Lord said unto me, these two facts do exist, that there are two spirits, one being more intelligent than the other, there shall be another more intelligent than they:
I am the Lord thy God, I am more intelligent than they all.

(3:20) The Lord thy God sent his angel to deliver thee from the hands of the Priest of Elkenah.
I dwell in the midst of them all;
I, now, therefore, have come down unto thee, to deliver unto thee the works which my hands have made,
wherein my wisdom excelleth them all,
for I rule in the heavens above, and in the earth beneath,
in all wisdom and prudence,
over all the intelligences thine eyes have seen from the beginning;
I came down in the beginning in the midst of all the intelligences thou hast seen.

22. (3:22) Now the Lord had shewn [sic] unto me, Abraham, the intelligences that were or- ganized before the world was; and among all these there were many of the noble and great ones, a  and he said unto me, Abraham, thou art one of them, thou wast chosen be-fore thou wast born.

AA  (3:24) And there stood one among them that was like unto God, and he said unto those, who were with him,
    we will go down, for there is space there, and we will take of these materials, and we will make an Earth whereon these may dwell;
(3:25) and we will prove them herewith, to see if they will do all things whatsoever the Lord their God shall command them;
    (3:26) and they, who keep their first estate,
        shall be added upon;
    and they, who keep not their first estate, shall not have glory in the same kingdom, with those who keep their first estate; and they, who keep their second estate, shall have glory added upon their heads forever and ever.

23. (3:27) And the Lord said,
    who shall I send?
And one answered like unto the Son of Man,
    here am I, send me.
And another answered and said,
    here am I, send me.
And the Lord said,
    I will send the first.
(3:28) And the second was angry, and kept not his first estate, and, at that day, many followed after him.

AA  (4:1) And then the Lord said, let us go down;
    A  and they went down at the beginning, and they organized and formed, (that is, the Gods,) the heavens and the earth.
    B  (4:2) And the earth, after it was formed, was empty and desolate;
    C  because they had not formed anything but the earth:
    B  and darkness reigned upon the face of the deep,
    A  and the spirit of the Gods was brooding upon the faces of the water.

BB  A  24. (4:3) And they said, the Gods,
    let there be light, and there was light.
(4:4) And they, the Gods, comprehended the light, for it was bright;
    and they divided the light, or caused it to be divided from the darkness, B  (4:5) and the Gods called the light day,
        and the darkness
        they called night.
    C  And it came to pass that from the evening until morning, they called night;
    and from the morning until the evening, they called day: and this was the first, or the beginning of that which they called day and night.
A  25. (4:6) And the Gods also said let there be an expanse in the midst of the waters,
and it shall divide the waters from the waters.
(4:7) And the Gods ordered the expanse, so that it divided the waters which were under the expanse, from the waters which were above the expanse:
and it was so, even as they ordered.

B (4:8) And the Gods called the expanse, heaven.
C And it came to pass that it was from evening until morning, that they called night;
and it came to pass that it was from morning until evening,
that they called day:
and this was the second time, that they called night and day.

A 26. (4:9) And the Gods ordered, saying, let the waters under the heaven be gathered together unto one place, and let the earth come up dry, and it was so, as they ordered;
B (4:10) and the gods pronounced the earth dry, and the gathering together of the waters,
pronounced they great waters:
and the Gods saw that they were obeyed.--
(4:11) And the Gods said, let us prepare the earth to bring forth grass;
the herb yielding seed;
the fruit tree yielding fruit,
after his kind,
whose seed in itself
yield-eth its own likeness upon the earth;
and it was so even as they ordered.
(4:12) And the Gods organized the earth to bring forth grass from its own seed, and the herb to bring forth herb from its own seed, yielding seed
after his kind,
and the earth to bring forth the tree from its own seed, yielding fruit,
whose seed could only bring-forth the same, in itself,
after his kind;
and the Gods saw that they were obeyed.
C (4:13) And it came to pass that they numbered the days; from the evening until the mor-ning they called night. And it came to pass from the morning until the evening they called day; and it was the third time.

A a 27. (4:14) And the Gods organized the lights in the expanse of the heaven, and caused them to divide the day from the night; and organized them to be for signs, and for seasons, and for days, and
for years;
a (4:15) and organized them to be for lights in the expanse of the heaven, to give light upon the earth; and it was so.
b (4:16) And the Gods organized the two great lights, the greater light to rule the day, and the lesser light to rule the night; with the lesser light he set the stars, also; a (4:17) and the Gods set them in the expanse of the heavens, to give light upon the earth,
b and to rule over the day and over the night, and to cause to divide the light from the dark-ness.
B (4:18) And the Gods watched those things which they had ordered, until they obeyed.
C (4:19) And it came to pass, that it was from evening until morning, that it was night; and it came to pass that it was from morning until evening, that it was day; and it was the fourth time.

28. (4:20) And the Gods said let us prepare the waters to bring forth abundantly the moving creatures that hath life; and the fowl that they may fly above the earth, in the open expanse of heaven.

(4:21) And the gods prepared the waters that they might bring forth great whales, and every living creature that moveth, which the waters were to bring forth abundantly after their kind; and every winged fowl after their kind;

B and the Gods saw that they would be obeyed, and that their plan was good.

(4:22) And the Gods said we will bless them and cause them to be fruitful and multiply, and fill the waters in the seas, or great waters; and cause the fowl to multiply in the earth.

C (4:23) And it came to pass that it was from evening until morning, that they called night; and it came to pass that it was from morning until evening, that they called day; and it was the fifth time.

29. (4:24) And the Gods prepared the earth to bring forth the living creature after his kind, cattle and creeping things, and beast of the earth after their kind; and it was so as they had said.

(4:25) And the Gods organized the earth to bring forth the beasts after their kind, and cattle after their kind, and every thing that creepeth upon the earth after their kind; and the Gods saw they would obey.

(4:26) And the Gods took counsel among themselves, and said, let us go down, and form man in our image, after our likeness, and we will give them dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing, that creep-eth upon the earth.

(4:27) So the Gods went down to organize man in their own im-age, in the image of the Gods, to form they him, male and female, to form they them:

(4:28) and the Gods said we will bless them.

And the Gods said we will cause them to be fruitful, and multiply and re-plenishe the earth, and subdue it, and to have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over ev-ery living thing that moveth upon the earth.
(4:29) And the Gods said,
   behold, we will give them
   every herb bearing seed that shall come upon the face of all the earth,
   and
   every tree which shall have fruit upon it, yea the fruit of the tree, yielding seed to them we will give it,
   it shall be for their meat;
(4:30) and to every beast of the earth,
   and to every fowl of the air,
   and to every thing that creepeth up-on the earth,
   behold we will give them life,
   and also we will give to them every green herb for meat,
   and all these things shall be thus organized.
(4:31) And the Gods said
   we will do every thing that we have said, and organize them;
   and, behold, they shall be very obedient.

And it came to pass that it was from evening until morning, they called night;
and it came to pass that it was from morning until evening, they called day; and they numbered the sixth time.

AA A 30. (5:1) And thus we will finish the heavens and the earth, and all the hosts of them. (5:2)
B1 And the Gods said among them-selves, on the seventh time, we will end our work, which we have counselled;
B2 and we will rest on the seventh time from all our work which we have counselled.
B1 (5:3) And the Gods concluded upon the seventh time, B2 because, that on the seventh time they would rest from all their works, which they,
the Gods, counselled among themselves to form, and sanctified it.
A And thus were their decisions, at the time that they counselled among themselves to form the heavens and the earth.

AA (5:4) And the Gods came down and formed these, the genera-tions of the heavens, and of the earth, when they were formed, in the day that the Gods formed the earth and the heav-ens, BB A (5:5) according to all that, which they had said, concerning every plant of the field, before it was in the earth, and every herb of the field, before it grew;
   for the Gods had not caused it to rain upon the earth, when they counselled to do them;
   and had not formed a man to till the ground;
B1 (5:6) but there went up a mist from the earth, and watered the whole face of the ground.
B2 (5:7) And the Gods formed man from the dust of the ground,
   and took his spirit, that is the man's spirit,
   and put it into him,
   and breathed into his nostrils
   the breath of life,
   and man became a liv-ing soul.

A 31. (5:8) And the Gods planted a garden, eastward in Eden,
B and there they put the man, whose spirit they had put into the body, which they had formed.
C (5:9) And out of the ground made the Gods to grow ev-ery tree that is pleasant to the sight, and good for food:
   D the tree of life, also,
   E in the midst of the garden,
   D and the tree of knowledge of good and evil.
C (5:10) There was a river running out of Eden, to water the garden, and from thence it was parted and became into four heads.
B (5:11) And the Gods took the man and put him in

A the Garden of Eden, to dress it and to keep it:
(5:12) and the Gods commanded the man, saying,
of every tree of the Garden, thou mayest freely eat, (5:13) but of the tree of knowledge of good and evil,
thou shalt not eat of it,
   for in the time that thou eat-est thereof, thou shalt surely die.
   Now I, Abraham, saw that it was after the Lord's time, which was after the time of Kolob; for as yet, the Gods had not ap-pointed unto Adam his reckoning.

A (5:14) And the Gods said, Let us make an help meet for the man, for it is not good that the man should be alone, there-fore we will form an help meet for him.
B (5:15) And the Gods caused a deep sleep to fall upon Adam; and he slept, and they took one of his ribs, and closed up the flesh in the stead thereof, (5:16) and the rib which the Gods had taken from man, formed they a woman, and brought her unto the man.
(5:17) And Adam said this was bone of my bones, and flesh of my flesh, now she shall be called woman, because she was taken out of man;
C (5:18) therefore shall a man leave his father and his mother, and shall cleave unto his wife, and they shall be one flesh. (5:19) And they were both naked, the man and his wife, and were not ashamed.
B (5:20) And out of the ground the Gods formed every beast of the field, and every fowl of the air, and brought unto Adam to see what he would call them; and whatsoever Adam called every living creature, that should be the name thereof.
(5:21) And Adam gave names to all cattle, to the fowl of the air, to every beast of the field;
A and for Adam there was found an help meet for him.
Notes on Appendix II

1. The text is TS-1, as used in the commentary. Verse numbers are used as in the commentary. Verse numbers are formatted as though part of the text to assist the reader in locating the text both in the original, and in the current version of the Pearl of Great Price. Parallel systems are in some respects matters of opinion and should be taken as preliminary. Some ground rules for examination of texts for such structures are found in Welch, 1995 and Lund, 1942.
